From now on, TROX will focus their activities on HVAC solutions for critical environments such as pharmaceutical, cleanrooms, laboratories and hospitals. Together with our partner company Walkair US LLC, a subsidiary of the Daldrop Group, a worldwide leading company for innovative cleanroom design and build solutions, TROX is now in the position to offer not only advanced products and system solutions but also the full service package.

TROX and Walkair are already long standing partners and together they will offer products and system solutions for trendsetting economic sectors in the USA. Daldrop+Huber is a global leader in the construction of clean room systems, whose experience and the systematic consideration of all requirements for clean rooms have led to the common development of the CROFCU, a clean room fan coil unit, that sets a new standard in functional diversity and potential applications. Together they have already successfully realize projects all over the world.

“Mr. Josef Oswald, CEO of Daldrop Group and Udo Jung expressed: „We are confident that with a focused offer of products and systems in combination with outstanding expertise, together we can meet up growing expectations to solutions of this specifically demanding market segments.”

The first common appearance from TROX and Walkair will be from April 17th – 19th at INTERPHEX conference and show in NYC at the booth Daldrop-SBB LLC booth no. 3612. Here you have the chance to meet our new team and get an insight of our new offer. For more details, please visit the homepage www.troxgroup.com/us
